

Press Release

Die ecke opens November 9 at 8pm the Rodrigo Canala's solo exhibition entitled Suite-Patrón [Pattern-Suite].

Canala, Bachelor in Fine Arts and candidate for a Master in Visual Arts presents in this opportunity a great size sculpture which occupies almost the whole gallery space, a series of drawings related to the sculpture, and a site specific work displayed in one of the gallery walls.

Canala's works analyze the relationship between show business, art skill and seduction as elements of power, by the use of different materials such as dust, plywood and lighting. His basics procedures are drawing and sculpture, which he uses as instruments of precision and projection to materialize objects with a harsh and schematized appearance that are revealed to us in an uneasy and perturbing way.

The exhibition will be open until December 7, 2008.
