

Press Release

Die ecke opens August 23 at 7,30 pm, Isidora Correa's exhibition entitled Interiorismo.

Isidora Correa, in this occasion, faces the object from a different perspective compared with her previous formal operations, where she presented the surgically cut objects. It seems that the author, in this opportunity, wishes to approach the object from a photographic point of view instead of the analytical one used in previous exhibitions.

Using a selection of images, taken from decoration magazines, Correa evidences, under several exhibition strategies, how the object loses its real function to get transformed in a common code, allowing the viewer therefore to think over imposed standards given by ultimate decoration trends.

Interiorismo puts the accent in the absurd relationships between objects and its museum like display and how those habits, learned from looking at weekend's magazines, develop aesthetics decisions that appear unconsciously, at the moment of putting things together.

Isidora Correa assembles in images these extravagant decisions, with the remains of broken up materials, in order to remark on either the conscious and spontaneous criteria that builds our daily life.

The exhibition will be open until September 28.

Free entrance
