

Press Release

Die ecke opens, Friday April the 18th , Francisco Moran's exhibition entitled Phantásmata composed by a group of paintings inspired in photography.

The "neutral aestheticism", as a result of massive communication media, industrial design, publicity and the cultural industry, is the main source of inspiration for the artist in this exhibition. Today the mass media images become merchandises and the distance that these images create between the viewer and the real object increases their illusive character; what they show is as ambiguous as what they hide.

Morán, with the excuse of abstractionism and using resins as a basic material, creates refined contemporary paintings with high quality standards.

Francisco Morán tells us: "this project is based in the need to explore the plastic's representation and simulation concepts, which I have been developing and relating it with photography and contemporary images in order to create my art work".

The exhibition will be open until Friday May 16th.
